BAND STORY

DestinationDawn is a BMI singer-songwriter who has a ethereal dreamlike quality to her music...coined "DreamWave" Her songs define the struggle of the human soul through life's journey and the battle between the flesh and the spirit. She also is the host of " StarWing Production's Indie Music Show" on Blog Talk Radio featuring a multi-genre mix of indie artists from all over the world. Born and raised in New York, she was highly influenced by her parents' show business background. Her parents were the famous "Skating Olympics" of vaudeville, burlesque, and movie fame. While very young DestinationDawn studied dance under the direction of Dorothy Lockwood, a Radio City Music Hall Rockette, and later studied under the direction of Dr. Paul Monty, vice president of the main chapter of the National Association of Dance Affiliates and also notorious as a Broadway and Ice Capades performer.

DestinationDawn began performing on stage as a dancer, and later as a model. However, music was always a passion in her life. She majored in music in college and has been in various rock bands over the years. She took a hiatus from a music career to become an educator. But even while teaching academics, she was forever mingling music as an aid to learning. After her husband died from cancer, she realized how important it is to fulfill your dreams, so she left teaching and returned to her passion...music, with a fervor. Not only writing music, but also dedicated to performing with a praise and worship band which leads weekly services. She now resides in Central Florida, freelancing and making guest appearances with various bands in
